At Flinders, it's all about your creative career

Choose your degree

Flinders University offers more than 60 Creativity & Arts undergraduate degrees and majors. Follow your passions and take your first steps towards an amazing career.

Be taught by leaders

Flinders Creativity & Arts degrees are taught by teachers who are leaders in their fields. You'll study with practising artists, renowned fieldwork experts, respected industry figures and researchers.

Gain real-world experience

Flinders' Work Integrated Learning (WIL) enables you to gain work experience while you study. You'll have the opportunity to gain real-world experience through placements, practicums, field studies and simulated workplace settings and assessment activities. Flinders aims to provide each and every student with access to a WIL opportunity during their studies.

Creativity & Arts industry partners

Flinders has close ties to leading industry partners. Your studies will give you the opportunity to work on real-world industry projects alongside major industry organisations.

"My degree is equipping me with the skills to follow my passions and do both theatre and film work. The knowledge I've developed at Flinders will allow me to carve my own career path, which is really exciting."

Creative Arts & Media

Explore your creative passions

Creativity is one of the most powerful and sought-after commodities on the planet. It drives screen, fashion, digital media, dance, writing and more. People with creative skills drive innovation in a range of industries, and multiple career paths are available for those with the right skills and knowledge. Learn how to unlock your visual, verbal and written skills to communicate your ideas.

A rewarding career

The range of careers that can stem from a degree in creative arts and media is incredibly broad. Your writing skills could lead you to a career in publishing. Your digital expertise could open up possibilities in gaming or animation. Your acting could lead you to roles in major stage or screen productions.

Study for success

Flinders has a long history of producing successful creative arts and media graduates. Our close collaborations with industry such as the State Theatre Company of South Australia, the Adelaide Fringe and Adelaide Film Festival, Monkeystack and Mighty Kingdom (to name a few) give students the chance to gain placements, learn from the very best and gather real-world experience.

No. 1 in SA in Creative Arts

Career-ready creativity

Flinders' Creativity & Arts degrees are designed with your future career in mind. Our industry links go far beyond simple placements, and offer you the chance to work on real-world projects and gain the skills that employers are seeking, today and tomorrow.

Our partnership with CDW Studios is one example; setting global benchmarks for education across a range of visual disciplines and producing graduates who are fully prepared to step into their creative fields.

“Flinders University/CDW has offered a unique experience where our teachers are currently working industry professionals, so this means that they can give the students proper insight into what is required of them at a professional level. The teaching staff all care for the success of the students and it is very apparent through how much they encourage and push the students. Through my study at Flinders University/CDW I have learnt a lot of the necessary fundamentals as well as current and emerging methods and techniques that are currently used in the professional VFX or game design industries.”

RIO

A graduate of the Bachelor of Creative Arts – Fashion, a dual award offered by TAFE SA and Flinders University, Rio Mignone drew inspiration from the frustration of last year’s COVID-19 lockdown to produce an award-winning collection of outfits and was recently named the HomeStart Outstanding Fashion Graduate for 2020.

She describes her five-outfit collection as an “aspirational escape from reality, expressed through the language of performative fashion”.

Now employed as the design coordinator for C/MEO COLLECTIVE at International Fashion Labels, Rio says she’s inspired by vintage clothing and art and is still developing her signature style.

“Collage and the draping of fabrics is part of my process, rather than sketching. And I like to pair elements together that are not expected,” she says.

“Studying at Flinders has been a huge decision, but a great one. I have met some awesome people and been able to learn from some of the best archaeologists in the world. Flinders has amazing resources which are easily available and staff that are committed to enriching student learning and the student experience.”

Imogen Lybery

Bachelor of Archaeology and Bachelor of Letters (Modern Greek)

Arts – The following study areas can be taken as a major or minor:

Applied linguistics

Applied linguistics is concerned with the practical issues of language such as learning and teaching, policy, multilingualism, cross-cultural communication, maintaining languages, and language difficulties.

Archaeology

A major in archaeology makes sense of the world by identifying connections between fossil remains of past ancestors, artefacts and material culture once used by past societies, and particular cultural and natural environments.

Creative writing

Creative writing develops the creative, practical, critical and collaborative skills necessary to pursue a career in the communication, arts and related creative industries.

Criminology

Criminology explores who commits crime and critiques how the criminal justice system responds to crime.

Drama

Drama offers grounding in the theories of theatre and performance workshops in movement, voice, improvisation and Stanislavskian techniques.

English

English encourages a knowledge of and enthusiasm for literature and fosters effective communication skills critical in the workplace today.

French

French is spoken in more than 40 countries, including some of Australia's closest neighbours, and is one of the most widely taught second languages in the world.

Geography and environmental studies

Together, geography and environmental studies explore dynamic relationships between people, places and the so-called 'natural' and built environments we shape.

History

History introduces issues that have shaped and continue to influence the modern world, such as revolution, fascism, migration, population, warfare and globalisation.

Indigenous and Australian studies

The Indigenous and Australian studies major offers thought-provoking and challenging insights into Indigenous and non-Indigenous contemporary contexts.

Indonesian

Studying Indonesian is a vital key to understanding our region. In addition to your new language skills, you'll learn how Indonesia works and the ways people think, feel and live together.

Innovation and enterprise

Innovation and enterprise provides you with the skills to enhance your creativity, understand and embrace innovation and think like an entrepreneur.

International relations

International relations studies global issues such as diplomacy, foreign policy, the military, human rights, economies, trade and international organisations.

Italian

Italy is one of the wealthiest nations in the world, an essential tourist destination and a major trading partner with Australia. Italian language is a pathway to employment.

Law and society

Law and society equips you with practical legal and analytical skills valuable in many industries including social work, policing, legal services, research and policy positions.

Modern Greek

The study of Modern Greek language and culture provides the key to understanding the importance of the Hellenic tradition in western intellectual development.

Philosophy

Philosophy deals with some of the big questions about the world, society and ourselves, and encourages thought and discussion by presenting a range of possible answers.

Politics

Politics encompasses how groups of people conduct and understand their public life together. Politics is the study of public life in Australia and the rest of the world.

Psychology

Psychology is the study of human behaviour and experience including how we learn and develop, personality and self-esteem, thinking processes and psychological problems.

Screen and media

Screen and media involves the study and analysis of a wide range of screen-based media including film, television, computer games and online media.

Sociology

Sociology studies the social institutions and processes of contemporary society, linking the way individuals form identities against the backdrop of society and the construction of culture.

Spanish

Spanish is one of the three most widely spoken languages in the world, one of six official languages of the UN and an important trading language in the Asia-Pacific.

Theology

Theology investigates Christian traditions, texts and practice through study in fields such as biblical studies, historic and systematic theology, and ministry studies.

Visual arts

Visual arts provides the technical, aesthetic and cultural skills to understand and work in the arts and cultural sectors and related fields.

Women's and gender studies

Women's and gender studies addresses the broad questions of gender in contemporary life and historically, in Australia and globally, and how to change gendered relations of power.

Minors

The following areas are available as minors only in the BA: information technology, international affairs, mathematics, professional studies, sciences.

Bachelor of Arts and Science

Your career could cover science and the arts. With majors available from creative arts, humanities, law, science, mathematics, computing, and social and behavioural sciences, you'll graduate ready to take on the world.

Arts and Science – In addition to choosing an arts major, the following science majors can also be taken:

Animal biology

The animal biology major involves the biology of animals, including their classification, molecular and chemical structures, evolution, physiology, ecology and biodiversity.

Aquatic biology

Aquatic biology involves the biology of marine and freshwater aquatic life: from mammals, birds and reptiles to plants and algae.

Biochemistry and molecular biology

The biochemistry and molecular biology major explores the very building blocks of life: from chemical structures and bonding to proteins and DNA.

Chemistry

Chemistry affects almost everything we do or use: from drugs, antibiotics and anaesthetics to polymers and plastics to synthetic fibres and batteries.

Cognitive science

Cognitive science is the scientific study of the mind and its processes in both humans and machines, including intelligence and behaviour, perception, language, memory, attention, reasoning and emotion.

Computer science

The computer science major provides you with a broad background in programming, databases, networks and computer systems, enabling you to develop technical expertise in computers and their application.

Ecology and evolutionary biology

The ecology and evolutionary biology major introduces you to the study of living animals, plants and fungi, how they interact, and their role in the complex ecology of life in communities.

Environmental geology

Environmental geology applies geology or geoscience to our living environment. The environmental geology major examines how geological processes and hazards influence human activities and vice versa.

Environmental hydrology and water resources

The environmental hydrology and water resources major is about solving a diverse range of environmental and water problems. It gives you a broad background in natural sciences including earth sciences, environmental sciences and marine sciences.

Environmental management

Environmental management is the management of our impact on the environment. The environmental management major aims to prepare you with an understanding of the complexity and contexts of environmental decision-making.

Geography

The geography major provides a broad foundation in geography. It involves investigating the dynamic relationships between humans and their cultures and environments.

Mathematics

The mathematics major provides a firm foundation in the basic principles and techniques of modern mathematics, and an understanding of how mathematics is applied in the social and natural sciences.

Microbiology

Microbiology is the study of microscopic organisms: from viruses and bacteria to parasites and fungi. The microbiology major involves the study of evolution, biodiversity, chemistry, biostatistics and immunology.

Ocean and climate sciences

The ocean and climate sciences major provides you with a deeper understanding of the physical processes shaping the marine environment and influencing climate.

Plant biology

The plant biology major involves study in areas such as Australian environmental change, diversity of plants and algae, animal and plant physiology, conservation biology and restoration ecology, and food biotechnology.

Physics

The physics major provides an understanding of the fundamental laws of nature. You will develop an understanding of the broad spectrum of known phenomena from classic and modern science, and explore the frontiers of modern science.

Statistics

The statistics major involves the use of mathematics, data science, biostatistics, probability and stochastic processes to analyse and solve complex statistical problems.

Vertebrate palaeontology

The vertebrate palaeontology major involves studying the fossils of extinct vertebrate animals, providing a specialised understanding of palaeontology, palaeoecology and vertebrate evolution.

Pathways to study

Whether you are a school leaver or returning to study at a later date, there are many ways to gain admission to Flinders University. Explore your options and find the entry path that's right for you.

If you have secondary education

Year 12 Entry

Most Year 12 applicants enter university via the traditional entry method, where offers are made to eligible applicants with the highest selection rank until all places in the degree are filled. Your selection rank is used by Flinders to assess your admission to a course and is based on your ATAR plus any adjustment factors for which you are eligible.

satac.edu.au

Guaranteed entry

If you achieve an ATAR equal or above the published guaranteed entry selection rank (and you meet course prerequisites) you will be guaranteed a place at Flinders. We offer guaranteed entry for most courses.

Indigenous Admission Scheme

The Indigenous Admission Scheme provides an alternative pathway for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, who may not have been able to gain entry to university by traditional means, with the opportunity to study at Flinders.

See page 31 for further details

Elite Athlete Pathway

If you've officially represented your school or state at a national level competition, we'll consider your school's recommendation about your academic potential when you apply.

flinders.edu.au/study/sport/elite-athletes

Research Project B Pathway

If you have strong results in the Research Project B subject you will be considered for entry into Flinders on the basis of your Year 12 results and Research Project B performance.

flinders.edu.au/study/pathways/year-12-entry/research-project

School Recommendation Program

We may consider your school's recommendation about your academic performance as part of your admission into Flinders.

uniTEST

If you're in Year 12, uniTEST is available to enhance your chances of getting into Flinders. We will select students based on their Year 12 results (60% weighting toward the ATAR selection rank) and uniTEST results (40%). Flinders will also consider applicants based on their uniTEST results (100%) as a standalone entry score (subject to SACE completion and any course prerequisites or specific admissions requirements). If you take the test and don't do well, we will only consider your highest selection rank.

flinders.edu.au/unitest

If you haven't achieved the results you expected

If you haven't achieved the results you expected in Year 12, there are a number of pathways to your preferred degree. You can start studying one course and move to another via internal transfer or Flinderslink.

flinders.edu.au/study/pathways/flinderslink

If you have work and life experience

Foundation Studies

The Foundation Studies program has been designed to introduce you to university study in a supportive learning environment. Open to people from all backgrounds, Foundation Studies provides a pathway to gain entry to most degrees at Flinders and offers guaranteed entry into some degrees.

Indigenous Admission Scheme

The Indigenous Admission Scheme provides an alternative pathway for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, who may not have been able to gain entry to university by traditional means, with the opportunity to study at Flinders.

Are you eligible?

To be eligible for the Indigenous Admission Scheme you must be an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander in accordance with the Commonwealth definition, which requires you to:

- be of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent, and
- identify as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, and
- be accepted as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander in the community in which you live or have lived. You may be currently studying Year 12 or be a non-school leaver.

How to apply

1. Apply for the course you want to study through the South Australian Tertiary Admissions Centre (SATAC). You will get an application number from SATAC that you will need for your Indigenous Admission application form.
2. Complete the Indigenous Admission Scheme Application form online (flinders.edu.au/indigenousadmissions). If you are having trouble completing an online application, you can request a paper based application via ias@flinders.edu.au or call us on 08 8201 3033.
3. An interview is part of the application process, but you will be notified about this.

Application and interview dates

First round applications close late November and second round applications close early January for semester 1. For our midyear intake to a number of courses, applications close in June.

Your course being Commonwealth supported means that your course fees are shared between the Australian government and you – with your portion being the student contribution amount.

HECS-HELP loan

You won't have to pay your fees up-front if you're an Australian citizen or holder of a permanent humanitarian visa. You can get a HECS-HELP loan for your student contribution portion of your uni fees. Find out more about costs to plan for while you're at uni at

Glossary

There are many terms used within a university that may be unfamiliar or confusing. Below are a few terms that may need explanation.

Admission pathway

Any one of the options available to a prospective higher education student that will enable them to meet the entry requirements of their chosen courses.

ATAR

The Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) is a ranking from 30 (lowest) to 99.95 (highest) agreed by COAG as a nationally equivalent measure of a person's relative academic ranking within their complete age cohort in the year they graduated from senior secondary school.

Adjustment factors

Often referred to previously as 'bonus points', these are additional points that may be used in combination with an applicant's ATAR to derive a person's course selection rank.

Defer

Delaying the start of a course of study by one year (commencing students only). If you have already enrolled, then you need to withdraw from topics before you can defer.

Guaranteed entry selection rank

Achieve a selection rank equal to or above the published guaranteed entry selection rank and you'll be guaranteed a place at Flinders.

Major

A sequence of topics required to be taken as defined in your course rule, normally across all years of a course.

Minor

A sequence of topics required to be taken as defined in your course rule, generally as part of a major.

Offer round/s

Refers to the series of dates on which offers of higher education places are issued to applicants throughout the year, whether through a tertiary admission centre or directly by a higher education provider.

Selection rank

The ranking that tertiary admission centres and most universities actually use to assess admission to a course. A person's course selection rank can include their ATAR, any adjustments they are eligible for, such as equity or subject adjustments, other contributions calculated on the basis of work experience or previous non-secondary study, portfolio assessments, results of the Special Tertiary Admissions Test, other supplementary tests, etc.
